

Greasby Infant School Headteacher

Due to the retirement of our much loved and well respected headteacher, we have a fantastic opportunity for an enthusiastic, inspirational and dedicated leader to be the next headteacher of our unique school.

Our new headteacher will:

- Have significant leadership experience and proven success in a senior leadership role in a Primary or Infant School
- Have high expectations of children's attainment, achievement and behaviour, supporting each and every child to develop and reach their individual potential
- Be an inclusive leader, with excellent interpersonal skills and the ability to encourage and enthuse everyone in school
- Continue to promote strong relationships with parents, governors, our neighbouring junior school and the wider community
- Be passionate, creative and innovative, be open to new ideas and keen to continue developing the unique aspects of our school, with a clear vision for continued success and improvement.

We offer:

- A successful and popular GOOD school that puts nature and learning about the wider world at the heart of the curriculum through use of our lovely grounds, animals and teaching MfL
- A happy and caring environment, where both pupils and staff enjoy coming to school
- Wonderful, enthusiastic children with supportive parents
- Hard working, dedicated and highly skilled staff team
- A knowledgeable, committed and supportive governing board who ensure the school is well-resourced and promote positive well-being and work life balance for all staff

Pupils enjoy coming to school and appreciate the range of clubs and other activities available to them. Pupils told me that the best things about school are the teachers, their friends and the school visits they go on to support their learning. Pupils' polite manners and respect for others are well developed. This contributes to the positive relationships between staff and pupils and the calm learning environment. Pupils talked confidently and enthusiastically about their learning. Parents and carers particularly like the community feel of the school. They described the school as caring and nurturing.
